
CLAYTON HOLDINGS NAMES BRIAN R. CLARK, SENIOR MANAGING DIRECTOR, COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE SERVICES

- MOVE UNDERSCORES FIRMS' FOCUS ON TROUBLED COMMERCIAL REAL ESTATE MARKET -

SHELTON, Conn., June 8, 2010 - Clayton Holdings LLC, a leader in providing customized risk analysis, loss mitigation, operational solutions and staffing services to the mortgage and fixed-income industries, announced today that Brian R. Clark has joined the company as senior managing director and business development officer for the company's Commercial Real Estate (CRE) business.

In this position, Mr. Clark will work with Clayton's CRE team, headed by Ed Robertson, to help bank clients, CRE owners and investors with portfolio and property valuation as well as strategy development.

Mr. Clark brings more than 15 years of experience to Clayton, including experience as head of real estate hybrids at Merrill Lynch's Alternative Assets Group and its Global Commercial Real Estate Principal Investment Group. Previously at ING, Mr. Clark established and led a distressed commercial whole loan desk. Mr. Clark will report to Tom Donatucci, executive vice president for business development.

"Over the past few years we've seen a vast change in the commercial real estate market with a drastic tightening of credit and record amounts of commercial real estate debt coming due," explained Mr. Donatucci. "As the traditional debt markets shift, bringing on board a business development leader with the breadth and depth of experience that Brian brings will help Clayton provide solutions to its CRE clients."

Mr. Clark said, "There are opportunities in the commercial real estate market, but to succeed you need a clear picture of the market. Investors and capital providers need the type of data, analysis and due diligence that Clayton provides."

Clayton's commercial services include loan level due diligence, loan and portfolio valuation and portfolio oversight and strategy.
